To whom it may concern:

Recently, Paul Doss produced a number of videos for Braswell Realty Company, Inc. The purpose of these videos was to provide prospective buyer's immediate web based access to essential property information.

Paul's commitment to quality and his concentrated attention to details made this a productive and positive experience. Paul produced, edited, created and hosted The Braswell Realty videos from concept to final product.

The videos were produced on time and on budget. More importantly Paul listened to how I wanted to present this information and created a simple format that met my goals.

It is without reservation that I recommend Paul Doss for any future cooperative business experience.
